RESTAURANT KEEPERS CLAIM TO BE LOSING MONEY.

(Special to The Herzld.)
Washington, Feb. 28.—Although the croprietors of the senate and house staurants are furnished free rent, ree fuel, free light, and are paid salaries and allowed all the profits of their restaurants, they complain that they lose money every week. This is due to the fact that they are not allowed to sell ilquors or beer or intoxicating drinks of any kind.

Senate Called the Bluff.

The history of the present prohibitory law is somewhat interesting. For several years only beer and light wines were sold in the senate restaurant, while on the house side liquors of all kinds were dispensed. Annually the house passed a prohibition provision in some one of the appropriation bills, and annually the senate struck it out. But last year, when the house passed a ast year, when the house passed a provision in the immigration bill pro-hibiting the sale of liquors in the capi-tol, and went on record for temperance reform, the senate called the bluff and let the provision stand. The reform has been one in fact as well as in name.

Disgraceful Scenes. When liquors were sold in the capitol, disgraceful scenes of drunkenness were witnessed frequently, especially when night sessions were held or at the close of congressional sessions. Employees of the house and senate, young men, and frequently members of the con-gress, drank to excess, and the house restaurant on the occasion of the clos-ing of congress resembled a disorderly beer hall. Since the sale of liquors has been prohibited none of these disgrace ful scenes have been witnessed, and the restaurants are orderly and entirely

The restaurant proprietors think they see in the near future a loophole by which the law may be evaded. The new structure which is to be erected for the use of the house as an office build-ing is to have a large space allotted for restaurant purposes, and the restaurant proprietors contend that the present ohibition applies only to the capitol building, and the sale of liquors may be conducted in the new building. This is a matter for future settlement,

The most few years has demonstrated that the Ashley valley is a good fruit country. The finest apples in the state are raised right around Vernal. They are of good quality and color, and are absolutely free from worms.

Unital country is the leading honey country in the state, not only as to quantity, but quality as well, and the product of her apiarles bring in many thousands of dollars annually. In an agricultural way the Ashley valley is as yet only scratched, and scientific farming would bring great and immediate results. The fact that all the stuff shipped into Vernal and the surrounding country necessitates a wagon haul of 125 miles has attracted to the country a class of people who would rather freight than farm, which has resulted in much careless farming and the laying idle of much valuable and productive land. The coming of the railroad will do away with this class of farmers, and their places will be taken by others who will make farming pay, and thousands of acres that are now indifferently tilled will be made to produce abundant crops.

The commission reports that the in migrant is not treated unkindly, but on the contrary, with every possible consideration so far as the inadequate facilities at Ellis island will permit. It is said that the principal causes for deportations are violations of the contract labor law and the likelihood of aliens becoming public charges, the proportion of deportations for any other cause being comparatively small.

Incidentally attention is called to the fact that during the past year the ar-

Rule four points out that it is the duty of the high military authorities to the persons who furnished him information as to nearly all the charges made by him against the government states in so far as their commerce is permissible under the exigency of war. More Buildings Needed.

The commission devotes some space as to the adequacy, both in administration and government, of the buildings used for the accommodation of aliens, and finds that certain changes are indispensable.
